DISCUSSION:

Report providing an update on the activities of the JLMC-COP's Special MOU Ad Hoc Subcommittee.

Update – At its March 23, 2022 meeting, the JLMC-COP designated the membership for the Special MOU Ad Hoc Subcommittee (“Subcommittee”) and approved proposed initial topics for consideration by the Subcommittee. Since that meeting, staff has begun preparing meeting materials to help facilitate the discussion.

As previously discussed with the JLMC-COP, initial topics include (1) a review of the parking prioritization categories; and (2) consideration of allowing employees to take advantage of multiple transportation benefits (e.g., combining a parking benefit with a transit incentive) simultaneously to encourage ridesharing and be more responsive to evolving commuting patterns for the City’s workforce. Related to these topics will be consideration of other ways to improve the efficiency of utilizing existing parking resources by reflecting changes in working patterns (including telecommuting) and commuting practices and preferences. Also considered will be the impact of any potential new resources that may relate to COMMUTEwell transportation benefits (e.g. transportation from key public transportation hubs to key City hubs).

Staff has reached out to the Subcommittee members for availability. The Subcommittee is expected to convene its first meeting before the end of April 2022.
